Shoptiques launches in Canada

August 18, 2015 Launch 326 Views

We've previously featured Shoptiques as our App of the Week, and now the online boutique platform is launching in Canada, following Shoptiques's other featured boutiques in the U.S., U.K. and France.

The site lists over 2,000 boutiques, and now shoppers can find items from over 30 boutiques in Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver. Shoppers can peruse the site, and either have their purchases shipped or retrieve their items in-store, if they happen to shop from a nearby boutique. The site offers free shipping for orders over C$125, and all returns are free.

Olga Vidisheva, founder and CEO of Shoptiques, says Canadian customers frequent Shoptiques.com, which inspired the company to start featuring Canadian boutiques.

"We're also very excited about the potential Canadian online retail sales grew from C$15.3 billion to C$22.3 billion between 2010 and 2014 and are expected to reach C$39.9 billion by 2019," Vidisheva says. "The market is growing very quickly and we're thrilled to now be a part of it."

Canadian boutique partners will benefit from Shoptiques's service, as the site gives inventory management, web hosting, email marketing and an additional platform to have their items discovered by shoppers all over the world.

Now that Shoptiques features Canadian boutiques, users will be privy to one-of-a-kind items featured in these stores. The site plans to continue adding new Canadian boutiques to their r for new additions in the future!
